Staff Code of Conduct

Reviewed: November 2023

Approved: December 2023

Revision due: December 2024

Policy Statement

The Code of Conduct is a statement of PolyMAT's (the "Trust") values of Care and Unity and describes both the way it wishes to carry out its business and the standards of conduct it expects from its employees and others working for the Trust.

The code applies to all individuals operating on behalf of the Trust whether as an employee or working for the Trust in any other capacity (collectively referred to as "Staff" within this policy).

Policy Context

The Trust aims to be an employer of choice and expects all employees to conduct themselves in a way that reflects its vision and values.

The Trust is committed to raising standards. By abiding by the Code of Conduct and following the Trust vision and values and behaving in a manner that reflects these values, the Trust aims to create a better place for all to work and study.

PolyMAT's Values

These values guide the way Staff behave whilst at work, they guide the way we work together, how we do our jobs and how we recruit, select and develop our Staff.

The Trust expects you to behave in a manner that is consistent with these values and this is encouraged and reinforced through the Trust's performance management process for employees.

While the code sets out the standards of behaviour expected of Staff, the following questions may help you to decide whether what you are doing (or intend to do) is acceptable:

- is anyone's life, health or safety endangered by your action?
- does your action "feel" right? Could you successfully justify your action to your line manager, students, colleagues, friends or family?
- is your action legal, honest and does it comply with Trust's policies, statutory requirements and approved practice?
- does your action appear reasonable?
- Would you be able to justify it to the local media?
- would you be compromised if your line manager, fellow colleagues, friends or family knew your action?
- does your conduct undermine the reputation of the Trust and/or your profession?

This code is intended to bring your attention to key areas of conduct. However, the code is backed up by more detailed policies on Health and Safety, Equal Opportunities and Diversity, Electronic Information and Communications Systems, Social Media, Safeguarding Children, Whistleblowing Policy and Procedure, and Allegations of Abuse Against Staff in School. It should also be read in conjunction with the Trust's Disciplinary Policy and Procedure, Grievance Policy and Procedure and Capability Procedure for employees.

Many of the rules set out below may seem obvious and would apply in any type of employment; for example, the requirement to follow reasonable instructions. Others, however, are related specifically to the nature of our organisation and may only be relevant to particular groups of Staff.

By their nature, these rules are not exhaustive but they set out the principles to be observed which, if breached, may lead to disciplinary action against employees or other action against non-employees. From time-to-time issues may arise which are not specifically covered within this code, but which may lead to disciplinary action if your actions amount to misconduct in the case of employees or other action for non-employees.

Even though not mentioned in the rules, criminal or statutory offences committed while at work may result in disciplinary action, including summary dismissal (or other action for non-employed staff).

The Trust may also be obliged to involve the police. Such offences committed away from work may be dealt with under the disciplinary procedure (employees) if they are considered relevant to the suitability for the work you are employed to do. You must notify the Trust immediately if you are charged or convicted of any criminal offences; or are in receipt of any indictments or police cautions; or are provisionally or permanently placed on the Children's Barred or Adults' Barred List (if applicable) administered by the DBS. Failure to do this may be taken into account in disciplinary proceedings (employees).

If you collude with anyone else in the breaking of any of these rules you may also be liable to disciplinary action or other action.

Rules and Standards of Behaviour

The rules that follow set out examples of standards of behaviour expected of you. It should be noted that this list is not exhaustive.

Breaches of the Code of Conduct will be dealt with in accordance with the Trust's Disciplinary Policy and Procedure (or other action against non-employees).

The disciplinary action to be taken in any individual case will always depend on the particular facts. However, breach of any rule shown within the Code may lead to dismissal or summary dismissal (dismissal without notice for gross misconduct) dependent on the seriousness of the misconduct, or termination of your contract for non-employed staff.

Health and Safety

You should always observe any Trust health and safety rules and guidance.

- you continue to drink when instructed to stop by a manager.

The Trust will take all reasonable steps to prevent Staff carrying out work-related activities if you are considered to be unfit/unsafe to undertake the work as a result of alcohol consumption or substance abuse.

The Trust expressly prohibits the use of any illegal drugs or any prescription drugs that have not been prescribed for the user. It is a criminal offence to be in possession of, use or distribute an illicit substance. If any such incidents take place on Trust premises, in Trust vehicles or at an Trust related function, they will be regarded as serious, will be investigated by the Trust, and may lead to disciplinary action and potential dismissal (or termination of your contract for non-employees) and possible reporting to the Police.

Staff or any other person under the Trust's control must not, in connection with any work-related activity:

- be under the influence of alcohol or drugs (except prescribed medication for you) whilst at work, during contracted hours or whilst performing any duties;
- misuse and be under the adverse influence of substances whilst at work, during contracted hours or whilst performing any duties;

Allegations of Abuse Against Staff

We all have a duty to promote and safeguard the welfare of children at our school. In line with this duty, we have a policy and procedure dealing with allegations of abuse against staff.

All members of staff are required to familiarise themselves with this policy and comply with it.

Concerns about the possible abuse of children by staff will usually arise in one of two ways, either:

- a direct allegation by a pupil or a third party, for example a parent; or
- an observation by a member of staff that the behaviour of a colleague is inappropriate or potentially or actually abusive.

In the event an allegation is raised in respect of you, we recognise that this can be a very stressful time and will take steps to keep you informed of the progress of the matter where possible. We will provide you with a named contact at the school whom you can contact for support, and we offer access to the following additional support:

- access to a 24-hour helpline run by Education Support, Employee Assistance Programme, which is confidential and independent, who can be contacted on 08000 856 148;

If you are a member of a union or professional association, it is advisable to contact them at the outset.

Further details on the following procedure are available in our Allegations of Abuse Against Staff Policy.

1. Allegations that may meet the threshold

Where a member of staff has any concern about another member of staff, including volunteers, contractors, and supply staff, that may meet the harm threshold (outlined below) you must report such a concern to the immediately, unless the allegations are about the Head of School in which case, it must be reported to the CEO, this person is known as the "Case Manager". If the Head of School is absent, the allegation should be reported to the teacher in charge.

A concern/allegation meets the harm threshold if the allegation is that the individual concerned:

- behaved in a way that has harmed or may have harmed a child;
- possibly committed a criminal offence against or related to a child;
- behaved towards a child or children in a way that indicates member of staff may pose a risk of harm to children; or
- behaved or may have behaved in a way that indicates the member of staff may not be suitable to work with children.

Further details on the process that will be followed is set out in section 1 of our Allegations of Abuse Against Staff Policy.

Low-level concerns

In line with Section Two of Part Four of Keeping Children Safe in Education, we recognise the importance of creating a culture of openness, trust and transparency to encourage all staff to share low-level concerns with the right person so that they can be addressed appropriately. The purpose of our approach to low-level concerns is to ensure that our values are constantly lived, monitored and reinforced by staff.

The term 'low-level' concern does not mean that the concern is insignificant. A low-level concern covers any concern no matter how small, even if it is no more than causing a sense of unease or a 'nagging doubt' - that an adult working in or on behalf of the school or college may have acted in a way that:

- is inconsistent with the staff code of conduct, including inappropriate conduct outside of work and;
- does not meet the allegations threshold or is otherwise not considered serious enough to consider a referral to the LADO.

Examples of such behaviour could include, but are not limited to:

- being over friendly with children;
- having favourites;
- taking photographs of children on a personal mobile phone;
- engaging with a child on a one-to-one basis in a secluded area or behind a closed door; or
- humiliation pupils.

Such behaviour can exist on a spectrum. It is essential that these concerns are shared as outlined to support the Trust's ethos and values and promote a culture of vigilance and transparency around the expected behaviour of staff.

Low-level concerns about a member of staff, supply staff, volunteer or contractor should be reported to the Head of School Any concerns about the Head of School should be reported to the Chair of the Local Academy Committee (LAC).

All low-level concerns will be recorded in writing. Each record will include details of the concern, the context in which the concern arose, and action taken. The name of the individual who raised the concern should be noted, but if that individual wishes to remain anonymous, that will be respected to the extent it is reasonably possible to do so.

Records will be kept confidential, held securely and comply with the Data Protection Act 2018 and the UK General Data Protection Regulation.

Records will be reviewed so that potential patterns of concerning, problematic or inappropriate behaviour can be identified. Where a pattern of such behaviour is identified, we will decide on a course of action, either through our disciplinary procedures or by referring to the LADO, where a pattern of behaviour moves from a low-level concern to meeting the harm threshold. We will also consider whether there are wider cultural issues existing in the school that may have enabled the behaviour to occur. If this is found to be the case or a contributory factor, we may review our policies and deliver extra training where we consider this will minimise the events happening again.

Whistleblowing

Any member of staff or volunteer with concerns about poor or unsafe practice and potential failures in the Trust's safeguarding regime should raise their concern under the Whistleblowing Policy and Procedure where they feel it is appropriate to do so. However, where they feel unable to raise an issue directly with the Trust or where they feel that their genuine safeguarding concerns are not being addressed, they should contact the NSPCC whistleblowing helpline via telephone (0800 028 0285) or email (help@nspcc.org.uk).

Communication and Confidentiality

The Trust may report any such losses and thefts to the Police;
- declare any conviction for a criminal offence or caution in relation to an offence (except those which are "protected" as defined in the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (Exceptions) Order 1975 (Amendment) (England and Wales) Order 2013 and 2020).

- fail to comply with Trust's recruitment and selection policies and procedures.

Employment of Family

The Trust does not believe it is good practice, either for the individuals or the Trust, for close relatives to be employed in the same Department, particularly where one reports to the other.

Relationships covered by the term 'relative' include immediate family, i.e. spouse, partner, civil partner, parents, children, siblings, in-laws, uncles, aunts, nieces and nephews.

It is possible for relatives to be appointed within the same Department but this should be discussed fully with the Trust before action is taken, and should only be in cases where there will be no direct working relationship between the individuals.

Employees should not:

- be involved in the selection process where you are related in any way to an applicant or have a personal relationship outside work with them;

Gifts, Entertainment and Hospitality

You should always act with integrity and not allow yourself to be put into a situation which does not allow you to act with honesty and integrity and/or in the best interest of the Trust.
